PARAPLEGIA

Index to volume 25 (1987)

Subject index

(A) Indicates an abstract

Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome
AIDS paraplegia: infection or myelopathy, by Dwyer 410(A)

Alcoholism
Alcohol use and activity patterns following spinal cord injury, by Heinemann et al. 70(A)

Ambulation
Augmentation of the Oswestry Parawalker orthosis by means of surface electrical stimulation: gait analysis of three patients, by McClelland et al. 32
Paraplegic patients achieve stair climbing and reciprocal walking by means of functional electrical stimulation (FES) and crutches, by Kralj et al. 64(A)

Anaesthesia, Local
Posterior cervical fusion under local anesthesia (the awake patient is the ultimate spinal cord monitor), by Zigler et al. 53(A)

Aortic Aneurysm
Post-surgical ischaemic myelopathy, by Stutesman et al. 23

Applicances
A profile of denials of durable medical equipment for spinal cord injury patients by third party payers, by Donavan and Carter 68(A)
Thoracic suspension: quantitative effects upon seating pressure and posture, by Harris et al. 446

Arachnoiditis
Omento-myelo-synangiosis in the management of chronic traumatic paraplegia: case report, by Abraham 44

Autonomic Dysfunction
Further experience with nifedipine in the treatment of autonomic dysreflexia, by Lindan et al. 62(A)
Pregnancy and autonomic hyperreflexia in patients with spinal cord lesions, by Wanner et al. 482
Relationships between near surface blood flow and altered sensations among spinal cord injured veterans, by Sherman et al. 50(A)

Baclofen
Pharmacological implications of lioresal research: where do we go from here? by Jones 427(A)

Blood Pressure
The determinants of blood pressure in a spinal cord injured population, by Dearwater et al. 69(A)

Book Reviews
71, 149, 310, 367, 435, 497

Cardiopulmonary Responses
Comparison of physiological responses to maximal arm exercise among able-bodied, paraplegics and quadriplegics, by Van Loan et al. 397

Catheterisation
Management of the neuropathic bladder by chronic clean intermittent catheterisation – 5 year outcomes, by Maynard and Glass 57(A), 106
Urological problems in the management of quadriplegic women, by Lindan et al. 381

Cervical Stabilisation
The efficacy of surgical management for scoliosis in myelomeningocele: correction of deformity and alteration of functional status, by Mazur et al. 55(A)
Management of non-contiguous vertebral fractures, by Tearse et al. 54(A)
The mechanical principle of external skeletal fixation in dorsal stabilisation of the thoracic and lumbar spine, by Kluger and Schmidt 54(A)
Posterior cervical fusion under local anesthesia (the awake patient is the ultimate spinal cord monitor), by Zigler et al. 53(A)
Surgical stabilisation of the cervical spine: a comparative analysis of anterior and posterior spine fusions, by Capen et al. 111

Children
Home care of ventilatory dependent children – the University of Michigan experience, by Nelson 59(A)
Magnetic resonance imaging in the evaluation of spinal cord injured children, by Gelman et al. 52(A), 92

Chordoma
Intraspinal chordomas, by Winnem 406

Conferences, Meetings, Notices
75, 153, 371, 439, 500

Data Collection
Data collection on spinal cord injuries: urological outcome, by Burke et al. 311

Depression, see also Psychological Reactions
Automatic negative thoughts associated with depression in traumatically injured spinal cord patients, by Alexander 69(A)
Depression, suicide and euthanasia in the acute phase following spinal cord injury, by Judd et al. 415(A)
Do rehabilitation staff misperceive depression in spinal cord injury patients? by Dijkers et al. 68(A)

Ejaculation
Issues in male fertility and sexuality, by Engel 422(A)
Let's have a baby – collection of semen, by Hill 423(A)
Rectal probe electrostimulation in the treatment of anejaculatory spinal cord injured men, by Halstead et al. 120
Sexuality and disability clinic: preliminary experience with electroejaculations in spinal cord injured man, by Halstead et al. 61(A)
Vibratory stimulation of the penis in men with spinal cord injury, by Szasz 60(A)

Electric Stimulation
Augmentation of the Oswestry Parawalker orthosis by means of surface electrical stimulation: gait analysis of three patients, by McClelland et al. 32
Dynamic effects of functional electrical stimulation (FES) for the prevention of pressure sores, by Levine et al. 65(A)
Effects of spinal cord stimulation on spinal spasticity, by Barolat and Myklebust 61(A)
Functional electrical stimulation: current status and future prospects of applications to the neuromuscular system in spinal cord injury, by Peckham 279
Functional electrical stimulation miracle walking in the 80s, by Marosszeky 417(A)
Initial experience with the anterior sacral root stimulator, by Brown 419(A)
The lax anal sphincter and spinal disease; a new electrophysiological approach to investigation, by Swash 420(A)
An overview of neuropathic bladder dysfunction by electrostimulation, by Millard 418(A)
Paraplegic patients achieve stair climbing and reciprocal walking by means of functional electrical stimulation (FES) and crutches, by Kralj et al. 64(A)
A practical approach to functional electrical stimulation – balancing the case, by Yeo et al. 417(A)
Variations in the return of motor control following functional electrical stimulation in spinal cord injured patients, by McDermott et al. 64A

Energy Metabolism
Comparison of physiological responses to maximal arm exercise among able-bodied, paraplegics and quadriplegics, by Van Loan et al. 397

Epidemiology
Data collection on spinal cord injuries: urological outcome, by Burke et al. 311
The epidemiology and economics of spinal cord injury, by Stover and Fine 225
Epidemiology of road accident: spinal injury survey, by Selecki 409(A)

Ethics
Ethical questions in the treatment of spinal cord injured patients, by Ohry 293

Evoked Potentials
Current status and future prospects for the neurosurgical management of acute spinal cord injuries, by Tator et al. 250
Evoked potentials in spinal injury, by Burke 413(A)

Experimental Spinal Cord Trauma
Biomechanical and radiological analysis of the cervical transverse ligament (of the atlas vertebra), by Highland et al. 52(A)
Decompression of the spinal cord improves recovery after acute experimental spinal cord compression injury, by Guha et al. 324
Experimental spinal cord trauma a biomechanical viewpoint, by Panjabi 217

Follow-up Studies
Outreach clinic program: method and outcome analysis in spinal cord injured persons, by Shanahan et al. 66(A)
Patterns of re-admission to a spinal unit, by Ungar and Burley 428(A)
A study of the influence of posterior column sensory sparing on initial presentation of cervical injuries on the ultimate prognosis, by Bedbrook and Prince 441

Fracture Reduction
Bracing of thoracic and lumbar spine fractures, by Jones et al. 386
The case for operative reduction and fixation of vertebral fractures and dislocations, by Stephen 415(A)
Management of non-contiguous vertebral fractures, by Tearse et al. 54(A), 100
Treatment of femoral and tibial shaft fractures occurring in patients with acute spinal cord injuries, by Garland 70(A)

Frankel Classification
Bracing of thoracic and lumbar spine fractures, by Jones et al. 386
The Frankel grade versus motor index score, by Apple et al. 50(A)
A study of the influence of posterior column sensory sparing on initial presentation of cervical injuries on the ultimate prognosis, by Bedbrook and Prince 441

Gastroenterology
Decreased theophylline bio-availability and impaired gastric emptying in spinal cord injury, by Segan et al. 62(A)
Individualised digital bowel assessment of the spinal cord injured patient, by Johnson et al. 63(A)

Geriatrics
The elderly para- and tetraplegic: special aspects of the urological case, by Madersbacher and Oberwalder 318

Hand Surgery
The present state of surgical rehabilitation of the upper limb in tetraplegia, by Moberg 351

Harris, Philip
Philip Harris – a profile, by Ross 163

Head Injuries
The co-incidence of spinal cord injury and closed head injury: results of a longitudinal investigation, by Richards and Hagglund 51(A)
Head trauma in the spinal-injured patient, by Bailes et al. 52(A)

Herniated Disk
Identification of herniated nucleus pulposis in spinal cord injury patients, by Apple et al. 63A, 78

History of Medicine
The development and care of spinal cord paralysis (1918 to 1986) by Bedbrook 172
Foreword (from Volume 1, No. 1 of 'Paraplegia'), by Guttmann 162
Fridtjof Nansen: neuro-anatomical discoveries, arctic explorations, and humanitarian deeds, by Ohry and Ohry-Kossoy 27
Historical review of paraplegia before 1918, by Hughes 168

Immediate Care
Epidemiology of road accident: spinal injury survey, by Selecki 409(A)
Initial hospital care of spinal cord injury patients, by Dollfus and Gschaedler 241
Pre-hospital management of spinal cord injuries, by Green et al. 229

International Medical Society of Paraplegia
The International Medical Society of Paraplegia at a glance, by Rossier 157
Past presidents 196
Report 6
Society medal holders 196

Ischaemia
Post-surgical ischaemic myelopathy, by Statesman et al. 23

Medico-Legal
Medical-legal issues concerning spinal trauma, by Donovan 305

Neuroanatomy
Neuroanatomy of the spinal cord: current research and future prospects, by Priestley 198

Neurological Sequelae
Decompression of the spinal cord improves recovery after acute experimental spinal cord compression injury, by Guha et al. 324
A study of the influence of posterior column sensory sparing on initial presentation of cervical injuries on the ultimate prognosis, by Bedbrook and Prince 441

Neuropathic Bladder
Anticholinergic suppression of bladder reflex activity following complete suprasacral spinal cord injury, by Anderson et al. 58(A)
Data collection on spinal cord injuries: urological outcome, by Burke et al. 311
Division of the external urethral sphincter in the treatment of the paraplegic bladder: a preliminary report on a new procedure, by Ross et al. 185
The elderly para- and tetraplegic: special aspects of the urological care, by Madersbacher and Oberwalder 318
Initial experience with the anterior sacral root stimulator, by Brown 419(A)
The lax anal sphincter and spinal disease; a new electrophysiological approach to investigation, by Swash 420(A)
Management of the neuropathic bladder by chronic clean intermittent catheterisation – 5 year outcomes, by Maynard and Glass 57(A), 106

An overview of neuropathic bladder dysfunction by electrostimulation, by Millard 418(A)
Surgical treatment of the static perineal modifications in spinal cord or cauda equina lesions, by Jurascheck et al. 475
Transrectal ultrasonography after spinal cord injury, by Fellows et al. 9(A)
Urethral sphincter dyssnergia in spinal cord injury patients, by Wyndaele 10
Urodynamic evaluation in spinal cord injury patients: how much is needed? by Lloyd and Kuhlemeier 56(A)
Urological consequences of untreated bacteriuria in spinal cord injury patients, by Kuhlemeier et al. 57(A)
Urological problems in the management of quadriplegic women, by Lindan et al. 381
Urology in spinal cord injured patients, by Wyndaele 267

Neuropathology
The clinical neuropathology of spinal cord injury a guide to the future, by Kakulas 212
The contribution of neuropathology to the restorative neurology of spinal cord injury: acute, subacute and chronic. A review of existing and possible new interventions, by Kakulas and Dimitrijevic 409

Neuropharmacology
Neuropharmacology of the injured spinal cord, by Hill 209

Neurophysiology
Neurophysiology in 'spinal cord injury, by Dimitrijevic 205

Nuclear Magnetic Resonance
Advancements in the neuroimaging of the spinal cord, by Perovitch 244
The application of magnetic resonance in spinal cord disorders, by Perovitch 373
Current status and future prospects for the neurosurgical management of acute spinal cord injuries, by Tator et al. 250
Management of spine trauma and deformity: an orthopaedic perspective, by Clark 258
Magnetic resonance imaging in the evaluation of spinal cord injured children, by Gelman et al. 52(A), 92
N.M.R. = No more radiology? by Sorgy 412(A)

Obituaries
Dr R.N. Gjone 430
Dr R.C. Schneider 366
Dr A. Verkuyl 430

Omental Transposition
Omento-myelo-synangiosis in the management of chronic traumatic paraplegia: case report, by Abraham 44

Pregnancy
Pregnancy and autonomic hyperreflexia in patients with spinal cord lesions, by Wanner et al. 482

Pressure Sores
Bilateral hip resection for closure of trochanteric pressure sores: case report, by Sagi et al. 39
Dynamic effects of functional electrical stimulation (FES) for the prevention of pressure sores, by Levine et al. 65(A)
Plastic surgery for pressure sores, by Pers 275
Pressure sore readmission program: a method to reduce chronic readmissions for pressure sore problems, by La Mantia 66(A)
Soft tissue augmentation as a method of reducing the liability to pressure sores in spinal injured patients, by Sutton et al. 454
Thoracic suspension: quantitative effects upon seating pressure and posture, by Harris et al. 446

Prevention
Pre-hospital management of spinal cord injuries, by Green et al. 229
Prevention of spinal cord injuries in Australia, by Yeo and Walsh 221

Prognosis
A collaborative study of high quadriplegia, by Whiteneck et al. 65(A)

Psychological Reactions
Depression, suicide and euthanasia in the acute phase following spinal cord injury, by Judd et al. 415(A)
Family functioning and functional independence in spinal cord injury adjustment, by McGowan and Roth 357
Psychiatry in the spinal injuries unit, by Judd and Brown 254

Quadriplegia Index of Function
A collective study of high quadriplegia, by Whiteneck 65(A)

Rehabilitation
Continuing care of the spinal cord injured, by Brown et al. 296
Ethical questions in the treatment of spinal cord injured patients, by Ohry 293
Evaluation of patient learning in a spinal cord education program, by Phillips and Hall 67(A)
Family functioning and functional independence in spinal cord injury adjustment, by McGowan and Roth 357
Paramedical aspects of spinal cord injured patients, by McGibbon 270
The present state of surgical rehabilitation of the upper limb in tetraplegia, by Moberg 351
Spinal cord injury unit nurses teach patient and families, by Flowers et al. 68(A)

Respiration
A collaborative study of high quadriplegia, by Whiteneck et al. 65(A)
Comparative study of electrophrenic nerve stimulation and mechanical ventilatory support, by Carter 58(A), 86
Comparison of physiological responses to maximal arm exercise among able-bodied, paraplegics and quadriplegics by Van Loan et al. 397
Glottic and tracheal stenosis in spinal cord injured patients, by Hsu et al. 60(A), 136
Home care of ventilatory dependent children – the University of Michigan experience, by Nelson 59(A)
Progressive resistive exercise in weaning high quadriplegics from the ventilator, by Lerman and Weiss 130
Respiratory aspects of spinal cord injury management, by Carter 262
Total respiratory compliance: effect of body position in acutely injured quadriplegics, Huang et al. 59(A)

Ross, James Cosbie
James Cosbie Ross – a profile, by Gibbon and Goldsmith 166

Schistosomiasis
Spinal cord schistosomiasis – a case report and review of the literature, by Suchet et al. 491

Scoliosis
The efficacy of surgical management for scoliosis in myelomeningocele: correction of deformity and alteration of functional status, by Mazur et al. 55(A)
Thoracic suspension: quantitative effects upon seating pressure and posture, by Harris et al. 446

Sexual Function
Children, marriage and marital outcome in the spinally injured, by Ungar 425(A)
Issues in male fertility and sexuality, by Engel 422(A)
Let's have a baby – collection of semen, by Hill 423(A)
Rectal probe electrostimulation in the treatment of anejaculatory spinal cord injured men, by Halstead et al. 120
Sexual aspects in paraplegic patients, by Francois and Maury 289
Sexuality and disability clinic: preliminary experience with electroejaculations in spinal cord injured man, by Halstead et al. 61(A)
Vibratory stimulation of the penis in men with spinal cord injury, by Szasz 60(A)

Shoulder Pain
Arm positioning for the spinal cord injured patient, by Chapman and Uliano 55(A)

Social Reintegration
Children, marriage and marital outcome in the spinally injured, by Ungar 425(A)
Family functioning and functional independence in spinal cord injury adjustment, by McGowan and Roth 357
Resettlement and employment of paraplegic patients in Japan, by Ikata 308

Spasticity
Effects of spinal cord stimulation on spinal spasticity, by Barolat and Myklebust 61(A)
Pharmacological implications of lioresal research: where do we go from here? by Jones 427(A)

Spinal Cord Compression
Decompression of the spinal cord improves recovery after acute experimental spinal cord compression injury, by Guha et al. 324
The long-term results of localised anterior cervical decompression and fusion in spondylotic myelopathy, by Irvine and Strachan 18

Spinal Injury Centres
A new purpose built spinal injury unit: Princess Alexandra Hospital, Ipswich Road, Woolloongabba, Brisbane, Queensland 4102, Australia, by Davies 2
Spinal cord injury units, by Frankel 239

Spondylosis
The long-term results of localised anterior cervical decompression and fusion in spondylotic myelopathy, by Irvine and Strachan 18

Sport
Sport for the spinal paralysed person, by Jackson 301

Sports Injuries
Spinal injuries as a result of sporting accidents, by Silver 16(A)
Spinal injuries in rugby football: vital statistics over the last 10 years, by Vanderfield 410(A)

Surgical/Non-Surgical Treatment
Bracing of thoracic and lumbar spine fractures, by Jones et al. 386
The case for operative reduction and fixation of vertebral fractures and dislocations, by Stephen 415(A)
Current status and future prospects for the neurosurgical management of acute spinal cord injuries, by Tator et al. 250
The long term functional results of conservative and operative management in complete paraplegics with spinal cord injuries between T_{10} and T_{12}, by Hardcastle et al. 428(A)
Management of spine trauma and deformity: an orthopaedic perspective, by Clark 258
Surgical stabilisation of the cervical spine: a comparative analysis of anterior and posterior spine fusions, by Capen et al. 111

Syringomyelia
The diagnosis and management of post traumatic syringomyelia, by Lyons et al. 340
Omento-myelo-synangiosis in the management of chronic traumatic paraplegia: case report, by Abraham et al. 44

Thermoregulation
Differences between trunk heat patterns shown by complete and incomplete spinal cord injured veterans, by Sherman et al. 466
Relationships between near surface blood flow and altered sensations among spinal cord injured veterans, by Sherman et al. 50(A)

Tomography, X-Ray Computed
Advancements in the neuroimaging of the spinal cord, by Perovitch 244
Current status and future prospects for the neurosurgical management of acute spinal cord injuries, by Tator et al. 250

Tracheal Stenosis
Glottic and tracheal stenosis in spinal cord injured patients, by Hsu et al. 136

Transverse Myelitis
Spinal cord schistosomiasis – a case report and review of the literature, by Suchet et al. 491

Turning
Arm positioning for the spinal cord injured patient, by Chapman and Uliano 55(A)
Continuous versus intermittent turning: analysis of direct nursing time and treatment of acute spinal cord injury, by Bugaresti et al. 53(A)

Upper Limb
The present state of surgical rehabilitation of the upper limb in tetraplegia, by Moberg 351

Women
Urological problems in the management of quadriplegic women, by Lindan et al. 381
